

IMPORTANT MOZAMBIQUE TRAVEL INFORMATION

Please note: Mozambique is a malaria risk area and it is advised to consult your doctor when planning your trip.

To travel to Mozambique, you need a passport valid for at least six months beyond your stay and with two blank pages. Most nationalities require a visa, which can be obtained on arrival, as an e-Visa, or from an embassy, though citizens from certain SADC countries (like South Africa) are visa-exempt for tourism.

You also need proof of onward or return travel and funds. If driving a vehicle, you'll require registration papers, a valid driver's license, and compulsory third-party insurance.

PASSPORT & VISA REQUIREMENTS

Passport:

Your passport must be valid for at least six months after your intended date of departure from Mozambique and contain a minimum of two blank pages for stamps.

Visa:

- Visa-Exemptions: Citizens of specific countries, including South Africa, Zambia, Botswana, Malawi, and others within the SADC region, are often exempt from needing a visa for tourist stays.
- Visa on Arrival: Visitors not from visa-exempt countries can typically get a visa at international airports and major border crossings.
- e-Visa: You can apply online for an e-Visa before traveling.
- Embassy Visa: For other purposes, you can apply for a visa at a Mozambican embassy.
- Proof of Funds and Accommodation:
 - Be prepared to show proof of accommodation (such as a hotel reservation or invitation letter) and evidence of sufficient funds for your trip.

Vehicle and Road Requirements:

- Vehicle Documents: If driving into Mozambique, you must have the vehicle's registration papers.
- Driver's License: You need a valid driver's license.
- Third-Party Insurance: Compulsory third-party liability insurance for your vehicle is required.
- Vehicle Registration: If the vehicle is financed, you must obtain a letter from the financial institution granting permission for the vehicle to be taken into Mozambique.
- Vehicle Equipment: You may need two red warning triangles, two reflective jackets, and a fire extinguisher in your vehicle.

Health and Safety:

- Yellow Fever Vaccine:
 - You will need to present a valid Yellow Fever vaccination certificate if arriving from or transiting through a country at risk of Yellow Fever.
- Safety at Borders:
 - Be aware of potential security issues, especially during peak travel times at land borders.
